Tucked away in Coachella Valley and nestled against the Santa Rosa mountains resides the city of La Quinta. Well known for its prestigious golf courses, refined shopping and exceptional resorts, it's no wonder why La Quinta is highly attractive to visitors. But do tourists know about this city's hidden culinary treasures? We discovered two local bakeries with remarkable eats worthy of a shout out.

ASPEN MILLS BAKERY & BREAD COMPANY

46-520 Washington St
La Quinta, CA 92253
760.564.5266

→ This bakery is a Palm Springs original with four locations in the surrounding area. This quaint bakery has specialized in baking for over 20 years. The Aspen Mills team bakes with only the freshest ingredients and creates a variety of bread including Cinnamon Swirl, Jalapeño Cheddar and New York Rye to name a few. Guests can also indulge in muffins and cookies baked to absolute perfection. Is Aspen Mills a baking wonder? We'll let you decide.

Native Knowledge: Aspen Mills Bakery prides themselves on being a consciously focused bakery. You won't find fats, oils, dairy, synthetic sugars, artificial flavors, additives, preservatives or even eggs in their products.

LA QUINTA BAKING COMPANY

78395 Hwy 111
La Quinta, CA 92253
760.777.1699
www.laquintabaking.com

→ Revel in the flavor of France at La Quinta Baking Company, a European-inspired bistro serving assorted fresh baked goods. Sweet tooth enthusiasts can enjoy a French-American delicacy and classic, the beignet. This authentic pastry will have you swimming in visions of New Orleans' French Quarter down to every last powdery bite. Napkins encouraged, but not a necessity to this delicious experience.

Native Knowledge: Lunch has never been better because all walks of pup life are welcome on the patio! La Quinta's dog-friendly atmosphere offers a "Doggie Menu" comprised of safe items for your pup.
